Playing by the Unwritten Rules Moving from the Middle to the Top

by: Indigo Johnson

$20.00

Many professionals are first generational successes, and often are unable to have access to individuals who can navigate the corporate terrain, teach them the ropes, provide sage advice and serve as advocates. In addition, there are numerous professionals who simply are unable to succeed based on the unlevelled playing field in organizations.

Ordinarily, it is relatively easy to find a job, but far more difficult to maintain and succeed in a career. This book helps readers discover what the middle is and why they are there, find their passion, manage their own career, and play the game by the unwritten rules. You will explore who you are as a professional and how to get more of what you want as a top performer. This book provides suggestions and guidance to professionals who are unable to attain true career success despite their genuine efforts and reveals what the insiders understand about the unwritten rules of business that few are privy to knowing.
